Jeff Thompson (Certified Expert Penetration Tester) has years of experience in performing vulnerability assessments, incident response and computer forensics. He is on the Information Security Team, responsible for assessing the cyber security of more than 12 Illinois state agencies. He has worn many hats including server admin, white hat, security awareness speaker and even a jester hat.